

SENATE INSISTS ON TWO BATTLESHIPS

Naval Appropriation Bill Is Amended After Somewhat Extended Debate.

MAY FAIL IN THE HOUSE

Whole Matter May Go Over to Special Session of Congress in April.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Two battleships were voted into the naval appropriation bill by the senate tonight after a short discussion of the provision adopted by the house limiting the building programme to one battleship. The two battleship amendment, offered by the naval committee of the senate, was adopted, 56 to 18. An amendment by Senator Brandegee providing for three ships was defeated, 21 to 48.

Cost of Battleships.

The two battleships would cost not more than $7,425,000 each, exclusive of armament. At the end of an extended debate it was provided that one of the battleships should be built in the government navy yards, after the senate had defeated an amendment by Senator Oliver to provide that the government build one ship only in case the cost did not amount to more than $500,000 over the cost of building in a private ship yard. The defeat of the two battleship programmes in the house is looked for by many members of the body. The house voted one battleship after a long struggle and the one battleship advocates declare they will hold up the entire appropriation bill rather than accept amendments adding the second ship.

Inquiry Refused.

The bill, as agreed to tonight, carries a total appropriation of approximately $150,000,000. A proposal made by Senator Asbury for an investigation of the armor plate contracts about to be made by the government for the battleship Pennsylvania, was defeated on a point of order. Senator Asbury said that representatives of the Carnegie and Bethlehem steel companies, comprising the "armor plate trust," had all stopped at the same hotel in Washington and had been frequently together prior to the opening of the government bids. When the bids were opened he said, they did not vary $1 a ton.

Conferees Appointed.

The bill finally passed the senate just before midnight after Senator Thomas of Colorado, had made a final and unsuccessful effort to secure the adoption of a one battleship amendment. In order to enforce the two battleship programme and to hasten the settlement of the issue with the house the senate named Senators Perkins, Penrose and Tillman as a conference committee to meet a house committee in case the house refuses to accept the two battleship amendment.

CASE RESTED BY THE GOVERNMENT

American Sugar Refining Company and Other Defendants to Produce Evidence.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The government restituted its case in the distribution suit against the American Sugar Refining company and sixty-five other corporations and individual defendants. The hearings have been in progress since last May before Special Examiner William B. Rice. During the examination of witnesses in this case, Philadelphia, Pa., more than 10,000 typewritten pages of evidence were brought into the record by the prosecution. In addition, there are 2000 letters and other exhibits.

DEATH SENTENCE PASSED ON WOMAN

Mrs. Frieda Trost Will Be Hanged in Pennsylvania if Governor Signs Warrant.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Frieda Trost, who was recently convicted of murder in the first degree in connection with the death of her husband about ten days after their marriage last August, was refused a new trial today and was sentenced to be hanged. Trost died from poisoning. Notice of an appeal was given. The date of execution lies with the governor.

No woman has been hanged in Pennsylvania in many years. In the case of Mrs. Edwards, who has been in the Lehigh county jail at Reading since 1901, under sentence of death for the murder of her husband, Governor Stone, Pennypacker and Stuart failed to issue a final death warrant, and Governor Tener also has failed to sign one up to this time.

Schooner Driven Ashore. NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 28.—The schooner Sherman of New Haven, a three-masted schooner, was driven ashore on Gull shoals, off Hatteras, in the heavy storm last night. Life savers succeeded in getting a line on the vessel late tonight. They hope to bring the crew ashore by breeches buoys.

Aged Couple Burned to Death. HUMANSVILLE, Mo., Feb. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, each 80 years old, perished in a fire that destroyed their home here today. Their granddaughters were severely burned while trying to rescue them.

SUFFRAGETTE ARMY ENTERS WASHINGTON

Blue gown, which with her fine English color made her more picturesque, peered out of a yellow covered wagon and looked like a blond gray gown. The wagon, drawn by a bony brown horse, is a capable suffragette lecturer. No one could help looking at the little yellow wagon, and no one who looked could avoid reading the suffragette arguments posted thereon in bold, black letters:

"All women can't stay in the home; give the working woman a chance. There are over 5,000,000 of us in this country."

"Taxation without representation caused a war in 1775. It is worthy our vote now."

"Women vote in Idaho, Utah, California, Washington and Wyoming. In another year Kansas and other states will have that right."

"Suffrage is past the state of argument; in a short time you will be ashamed that you ever opposed it."

One Aged Marcher.

There walked painfully at the rear "Corporal" Martha Klatschkin. Her eyes were wind-whipped and watery in the early morning light.

"I'm 65," she said, but seemed a passerby's offer to give her a lift in his cart. She had walked from New York.

Miss Minerva Crowell, a Smith college girl, tall and neat, despite the onslaught of the elements, said:

"I believe the 'hike' has immeasurably helped the cause. Don't believe the stories of disunion in our ranks. A few got on the wrong road and pushed on to Baltimore, rejoining the army next day and changing automobiles by side."

There was a split. But I give you my word of honor there was none.

Houses were dotted with heads at windows and doors as the marchers went. A moving mass when the marchers passed the capitol and swung into Pennsylvania avenue.

Form Human Chain.

To prevent disruption of their column in the demonstration, "General" Rosalie Jones and her tired comrades looked grim and in two lines clung together, moving only when police could clear the way for a short advance. In every block, shouting and cheering, the crowds greeted the marchers with enthusiasm.

Men and women alike braved the horses' hoofs and clanging automobiles by side, greeting them everywhere along the line with tempestuous demonstrations. Men and women alike braved the horses' hoofs and clanging automobiles by side, greeting them everywhere along the line with tempestuous demonstrations.

When the treasury was reached so dense was the mob that the path with great difficulty cleared a narrow way through the throng. The marchers passed to the crowding glory of their achievement at suffrage headquarters, where, as soon as the conferees left, they were met by a throng of suffragettes, some of whom were carrying banners and whistles kept up a din accompanying the shouts of the spectators. Even the police gratitudes, created for inauguration day, were jammed with people, despite the efforts of guards to keep back the crowd.

WILSON MAKES TWO LITTLE ONES HAPPY

ENJOYS THE DIVERSION

Will Witness Inauguration of His Successor at Trenton at Noon Today.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Two little children, a boy of five and a girl of two, gave President-elect Wilson an hour of diversion today when he reached New York from Philadelphia after a visit to his dentist.

President James Rea of the Pennsylvania, whose private car happened to be attached to the same train, greeted Mr. Wilson, inviting him to luncheon in his own car. The president-elect had arranged to dine with members of his party in the dining car and declined. The railroad president sat with Mr. Wilson for a few minutes chatting. At the other end of the car was a "blue-eyed youngster" blowing a toy whistle. He was watching the president-elect and as soon as Mr. Rea left the little fellow proceeded to make the acquaintance of the future president, who received him in his arms, found that his name was Clark Greenwood, Jr., and that he was fond of pulling hair.

Child Pleases Wilson.

Master Greenwood found Mr. Wilson a ready listener to his infant utterances. He rapidly grew more intimate and soon his acquaintance extended to the privilege of fingering the president-elect's ears, rubbing his face and dancing up and down on his knee, all of which Mr. Wilson seemed to enjoy immensely.

A moment later little Clara Greenwood came toddling along from the other end of the car to find her brother and she, too, was soon on friendly terms with the president-elect. Both children were presently perched safely on the knees of the next president of the United States, unconscious of the unusual situation. Mrs. Clark Greenwood of Narberth, Pa., mother of the two children, left her youngest child, a baby, for a few moments, and chatted with the president-elect.

Visits Theater.

Mr. Wilson on arrival in New York went to the studio of an artist who completed a portrait begun during the campaign. Then he met William F. McCombs, Democratic national chairman, and called also on Colonel E. M. House. He attended a theater, to night. He plans to leave here tomorrow for Trenton, where at noon he will see the inauguration ceremonies of his successor, Senator James Fielder, president of the state senate. In the evening the residents of Princeton will give Mr. Wilson a farewell demonstration.

As his train was approaching New York from Philadelphia the governor was shown a dispatch from Washington saying Castro had announced in Havana that the president-elect had extended him an invitation to the inauguration. Beyond the brief statement that it was "unqualifiedly false," the governor had no statement to make. Castro had announced in Havana that the president-elect had extended him an invitation to the inauguration. Beyond the brief statement that it was "unqualifiedly false," the governor had no statement to make.

Quickly Recognized.

The president-elect was quickly recognized when he entered a box at the theater tonight in company with Colonel House. There was instant applause. Between each act, hand-clapping was resumed. Meanwhile the author of the play sent in his card to Mr. Wilson and shortly afterward entered the Wilson box. When the curtain descended after the third act and the audience again began to applaud, Mr. Wilson arose from his seat. The author stood up beside him and the president-elect introduced him to the audience. The demonstration continued until abated and finally Mr. Wilson spoke, slowly and in a low voice, and deliberately. It was a brief speech.

"The newspaper men who are sitting in the opposite box can tell you that just now I am making a virtue of silence," he said smiling.

When he sat down there was further applause, which only terminated when the curtain went up for the last act.

Mr. Wilson went from the theater to the home of a friend to spend the night.

convenience for big business achievements.

"From here I can direct all my own interests and be able to reach them more readily than from Salt Lake City."

In arranging to locate in San Francisco, Mr. Jackling some months ago contracted with a Seattle firm for the construction of a $200,000 steel steam yacht, which its builders have agreed to deliver to him in the San Francisco harbor in June.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Stun shots, which are said to have come from the United States battleships Vermont, Nebraska and Georgia, at target practice in the Gulf of Mexico Friday, killed a man on shore and wounded three others, according to a dispatch to the New York Times from Vera Cruz, Mex.

The incident is said to have caused great excitement at Vera Cruz and neighboring places, and reports were circulated that a naval battle was in progress.

THAT HE BE TEFEN BEFORE GRAND JURY

Being a Lunatic in Eyes of the Law, However, Would Kill His Testimony.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—District Attorney Whitman announced today that he would lay the matter of the $25,000 fund to release Harry K. Thaw from Matteawan before the March grand jury, which will assemble on Monday. It is possible, though not probable, that Thaw himself will be called as a witness before the grand jury.

"That is a question," said the district attorney tonight, "which Justice Seabury, who will be in charge of the grand jury, will have to decide."

The point was called to Mr. Whitman's attention that Thaw, being a lunatic under the law, could not legally be used as a witness.

"His testimony can be taken in corroboration of evidence which has been presented," replied the district attorney. "In which event the court would instruct the jury as to the status of Thaw and the importance of his testimony."

John Nicholson Anhalt, the lawyer who was selected by Thaw to conduct the negotiations for his liberation, said today that he would not be at all dismayed by any grand jury investigation, nor yet by a bar association inquiry into his professional conduct in the case.

"I welcome both inquiries," said he, "and am at the disposition of the district attorney at any time. For my testimony before the governor's committee embodies all that I have to say on the subject. I will stand pat on that."

HUERTA KNOWS THE REBELS ARE STRONG

agents claiming to represent Carranza, the rebellious governor of the state of Coahuila. These agents say Carranza is disposed to recognize Huerta as president, but with the understanding that Carranza's orders of General Tracy Aubert have not been altered and he will push the government campaign in the direction of Saltillo.

An unusual feature of the situation which is causing some concern is the attitude of Colonel Francisco Naranja, who is at the head of a thousand men on the railway between Monterrey and Laredo and who has not yet indicated his attitude toward the government.

Madero's Body Interred.

The body of former President Madero was interred today in the cemetery at his old home at San Pedro de Los Pinos in the state of Coahuila.

Felix Diaz today accepted the candidacy for the presidency of Mexico offered him by a committee representing the party organized for the sole purpose of securing his election. His only opponent of any strength will be Francisco de la Barra, who is not considered to have a chance of being elected, particularly since Porfirio Diaz is coming home to aid the candidacy of his nephew.

PEACE CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD SOON

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 28.—A conference between northern rebel leaders and delegates from the Huerta government at Mexico City has been called at San Antonio, Tex. The dates of the conference have not been set, but it is said it will be held soon.

American consuls in northern Mexico received telegrams from Secretary Knox today instructing them to assure the rebel chiefs that they may attend the conference without fear of arrest by United States authorities. Secretary Knox, through the consuls, assured the rebel chiefs that the United States would not interfere with the conference, and that the consuls would be at the disposal of the rebels.

Consul T. D. Edwards at Juarez is attempting to obtain the names of the rebel leaders in the Salazar, Pascual Orozco, Jr., and Antonio Rojas.

Leaders Gathering.

Rebel leaders are already gathering here. The rebel army is now at Ahumada, a station on the Mexican Central railway, between Juarez and Chihuahua city, where General Pascual Orozco, Jr. is reported to have been located during the last few days.

Coming to confer with the missing rebel chief, General Carranza, the two chief leaders of the northern rebels. Each is reported to be moving with armed forces. Carranza is reported to be moving toward Chihuahua city, where a truce was arranged with General Antonio Rabago even before the rebel army entered Chihuahua city. Salazar's troops have been at Ascension, southwest of Juarez.

Orozco at Ahumada.

The location of Orozco at Ahumada was established by the rebel army. He has been missing since the rebel defeat about Ojinaga last September.

Colonel de la Fuente, Salazar's chief of adjutants, admitted that the cabinet of General Huerta's provisional government is expected to return here. The cabinet is expected to return here. The cabinet is expected to return here.

FIGHT IS PROBABLE AT CANANEA CAMP

CANANEA, Mexico, Feb. 28.—Opposing factions here are on the verge of an armed conflict. Closely confined to their quarters in the old fortifications in the rear of the Cananea camp, a group of men have threatened the Maderistas, who have threatened the Maderistas, who have threatened the Maderistas.

Message From Diaz.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—General Porfirio Diaz, president of Mexico, sent the following message today to President Huerta from Minia, which you have shown me in my admirable satisfaction to me, and ever more so is the delicate manner and the kindly words in which you have been pleased to advise me of your elevation to the presidency of Mexico.
